CHRIST CHURCH VESTRY ROOM,
Wednesday, Sept. 7, 1864.

Extract from the Minutes of the Vestry of Christ Church, Philadelphia, held in the vestry room of that church on the evening of Wednesday, the seventh day of September, 1864.

“The Warden presented the following communication to Vestry:—

PHILADELPHIA, 7th Sept., 1864.

TO THE VESTRY OF CHRIST CHURCH—

GENTLEMEN: It gives me pleasure to lay before you at this meeting a copy of the work I have prepared under resolution of Vestry passed 4th December, 1861, authorizing me to have the Inscriptions on the Grave-stones in the Burial Grounds of Christ Church copied and published.

The full inscription on every stone in and around the church and in the ground at Fifth and Arch Streets has been carefully copied, as far as legible, and each in turn has afterwards been examined by a second copyist, to test its correctness. When any doubt arose as to a name or date, the church records were referred to, and these having been faithfully kept for over a century and a half, were of great assistance in verifying the inscriptions. It gave me much satisfaction to look back through these books containing the records of births, marriages, and burials for such a length of time, and find how thoroughly systematic and correct have been the entries.

The extent of the burial-grounds was such, and the grave-stones so numerous, that there appeared a difficulty in arranging the diagrams so as to make them readily available for reference. This, however, has been overcome by dividing the plans into sections and locating the stones in their respective position in each section. These stones being numerically arranged in the diagram, with the family name attached thereto, enables every one in the ground to be referred to, while the corresponding numeral in the printed matter gives the full inscription on that stone.

Some of the tombs are in need of repair, and if any part of the income of the church was available for such a purpose, I would recommend that it should be used to pay the expense of putting these in order. Unfortunately there is none that can be so used. The sale of this book, however, may possibly produce something over the cost of publication, and if this should be the case, I gladly present it to the church for that purpose.

I am, gentlemen, very respectfully yours,

EDWD. L. CLARK,
Church Warden.

It was Resolved, That the communication be entered on the minutes, and that the thanks of the Vestry be given to the Warden, Mr. EDWARD L. CLARK, as well for the pains he has taken in making an accurate Record of the Incriptions on the grave-stones in the burying-grounds of this church, as for the generous donation of his publication to this parish, and that the Secretary be desired to notify Mr. CLARK, in writing, of this resolution."

* * * * *

MY DEAR SIR:

In accordance with a resolution of Vestry, made at the meeting held this evening, I inclose herewith an extract from the minutes.

Yours, very truly,

SAML. WETHERILL,
Secretary Christ Church Vestry.

Mr. EDWARD L. CLARK,
Warden.

P R E F A C E .

THE design of this work is to preserve a record of the inscriptions on the tombstones in and around Christ Church and in the burial-ground at Fifth and Arch Streets. Time has made such inroads on these monuments that many of the words are now difficult to decipher, and on some of the stones no names are legible to tell of the remains that rest beneath; and as so many associations cluster around these monuments, it would prove a source of regret in after years that any now legible should pass into oblivion.

These inscriptions, therefore, have been carefully copied, and are presented to the reader in the following pages precisely as they appear on the tablets, so that when the hand of time may have washed away the memorial as now seen, these words, endeared to so many family circles, will remain, and the position of the graves kept in remembrance.

Representations of the ground plots of the churchyard and burial-ground have been prepared by actual survey, and lithographic maps of the same appear throughout the book. Every grave that is marked by a stone is there designated by numerals, and corresponding numbers in the printed matter point out the full inscriptions as they appear on the indexed stones. The survey does not include the stones that have been placed in the ground since October, 1863.

The first diagram represents the plan of Christ Church with its surrounding ground. In the year 1861, Church Alley, running along its southern boundary, was ordered by the city authorities to be widened, and a strip of eight feet in width was taken from the churchyard for public use. In the ground thus to be thrown open were seven tablets in memory of the dead buried there, and the removal of these remains was a subject of much solicitude on the part of the officers of the church. It was, however, ordered by the Vestry that they should be reinterred next to the south wall of the church building, as near as possible to their first resting-place. In accordance with this decision the remains found there were exhumed with the greatest care, under the superintendence of the wardens, and deposited in the respective localities as designated in the plan, the duplicate numbers in the diagram showing their former and present positions.

In earlier times many prominent individuals were buried inside of the church. Their remains still rest there, and throughout the different alterations in the interior no change has been made in the relative position of the tablets placed over their graves. These are now covered by a wooden floor, which was laid when the extensive repairs were made in the year 1837. The stones are placed in the old brick-paved aisles, which remain unimpaired about one foot below the floor now in use. The inscriptions on these stones were copied before the new floor was laid, and, with the respective locations of the stones, were transcribed on the Minute Book of the Vestry at the time. It will be seen that one of these stones indicates the burial at as early a date as 1700, associating with it the interesting fact that it has been the silent witness to the worship of our ancestors and their descendants during the long and varied period of 164 years.

The property on which the church is built was purchased in the year 1695, only thirteen years after the city was founded, and when the population numbered about 3,000. The first church interments were made in this ground, but the population of the city increasing rapidly, it was soon found necessary to secure a lot in the suburbs for a burial-place. Accordingly, in the year 1719, the ground at Fifth and Arch Streets was purchased, and most of the interments were afterwards made there. Almost all the old families of Philadelphia will find that the remains of some of their ancestors rest in this hallowed ground, as it was for a long time the main repository of the dead in the city. The earliest date, as at present seen on the inscriptions, is 1721, but interments were made there during the year it was opened, and no stones appear to have been placed over the graves. It is a cause of regret that tablets were not always erected over every grave, as memorials of the departed.

The diagrams that have been prepared to illustrate this department will enable every grave-stone to be noted. The first lithograph is a general plan of the whole ground divided into alphabetical sections. The visitor to the cemetery will find on either side of the main path corresponding letters showing the dividing line between the sections. Following this line to the adjoining walls east and west, similar letters will be seen, and these parallels inclose the space of each section. The succeeding lithographs represent the individual sections, with every grave-stone located in each, and arranged in their respective positions as they appear in the ground. On the plans these are all numbered, with the family name engraved thereon, and a reference to the numeral in the pages that follow the sectional map will show the full inscription as it appears on the tablet.

Apart from the grave of Franklin, and others of great interest whose tombs are pointed out to visitors, there are deposited in this ground the remains of several prominent individuals of the past. The records of the church disclose the fact that Peyton Randolph, the first President of Congress, was buried here on the 24th of October, 1775; and again, that Francis Hopkinson, one of the most distinguished patriots of the Revolution, was also interred here on the 11th of May, 1791; yet a careful search affords no clue to their resting-place, as no tablets mark their graves. In the church building, also, there have been several interments without a memorial. The records of the year 1759 state that Brigadier-General Forbes died on the 10th of March of that year, and was buried in Christ Church, but there is no stone marking the locality. A reference, however, to the Pennsylvania Gazette of

15th March, 1759, furnishes the following information:—

“On Sunday last, died of a tedious illness, John Forbes, Esq., in the 49th year of his age, son to — Forbes of Petincrief, Esq., in the Shire of Fife, in Scotland, Brigadier-General, Colonel of the 17th Regiment of Foot, and commander of his Majesty’s troops in the Southern Provinces of North America. * * * Yesterday he was interred in the chancel of Christ Church in this city.”

A walk through these burial-grounds affords ample food for meditation to a reflective mind;—here, where rest the remains of so many of past generations who were the centres of thought in church and state, in public and in social life;—here, the resting-place of the high born and the humble, together awaiting the call of their glorious resurrection.

Forgive, Great God, this one last filial Tear!
Indulge my sorrow on a Theme so near!
This Earth Born Strain indulge, that mourns the Blest,
And doubly mourns because they were the Best.
Tho' Truth remonstrates, Self Love will prevail,
And link the Beam in Nature's feeble scale.
A God and man once wept on Lazarus dead,
Tho' Power divine recalled his soul when fled.
A poor frail Being—a Mother gone;
The Tomb scarce closed before a Sister's flown.
Each was a Guide, a Pattern, and a Friend;
She prays to join when fleeting Life shall end.

(No Stone.)

NOTE.—The remains of Major Gen'l Charles Lee are supposed to rest beneath this spot. He died in Philadelphia on the 2d Oct. 1782, and was buried, according to the Church Records, in Christ Church Yard on the 4th of same month. No stone marked his grave, but tradition placed it next to the grave of Gen'l Mercer, near the old wall adjoining Church Alley, at the spot indicated there by No. 29. In 1861 Church Alley was ordered to be widened by action of our Courts, thus cutting off about eight feet of the Church yard, which is now occupied by the outer sidewalk. All the remains of those who had been interred in this strip of ground were carefully removed and deposited in new coffins immediately next to the Church building. The remains of Gen'l Lee were removed and re-interred at the spot designated in the plan by the same numeral, 29, between the first and second windows East of the S. W. door of the Church.

Vault of Christ Church.

Rev^d JOHN WALLER JAMES, Rector of this Church

"I know that my Redeemer liveth"

NOTE.—Mr. James was Assistant Minister of Christ Church for four years preceding his decease, and was elected Rector on the 21st July, 1836, on the death of Bishop White. The Church building was then undergoing repair, and, visiting the interior of the State while the work was progressing, he was taken ill and died at Huntingdon on the 14th August following. A substantial Church was erected to his memory in that town, mainly by the contributions of the members of Christ Church. A mural tablet, No. 56, was placed in the Church as a memorial of the estimation of his worth by the congregation.

NOTE.—This tomb is one of great interest to all patriots and churchmen, being, as the inscription states, the resting-place of William White and Robert Morris—one the great and beloved Patriarch of our American Church, and the other, a prominent Merchant of Philadelphia, who by his financial measures in behalf of the Government during the Revolution, aided more than all others in raising funds for the support of our armies and thus contributing in carrying the war to a successful issue.

The following extract from Dr. Dorr's History of Christ Church relative to Bishop White will prove interesting.

Mr. White was an assistant in the united churches for seven years; first to Dr. Peters, and afterwards to Dr. Duché. His election as rector took place April 15th, 1779; which office he held until his death, July 17th, 1836.

We collect from various sources, the following notices of this great and good man: "The Right Reverend William White, D. D., was born in the city of Philadelphia on the 4th of April (N. S.) A. D. 1748. His father, Col. Thomas White, who was an emigrant from England, settled in Maryland, but prior to the birth of the son removed to Philadelphia. At the early age of fourteen his thoughts were directed to the ministry. He was educated in Philadelphia College, and there graduated A. B. in May, 1765, and A. M. about three years afterwards. He was ordained by Dr. Philip Young, Bishop of Norwich, under letters dimissory from Dr. Richard Terrick, Bishop of London, on the 23d December, 1770, and priest by the same Bishop Terrick, on the 25th day of April, 1772. In this interval of time he had access to the society of many of the most illustrious men of the age, among whom may be mentioned Dr. Kennicott, Dr. Lowth, Oliver Goldsmith, and Dr. Samuel Johnson.

“Having, while in England, been conditionally nominated to the place of assistant minister of Christ Church and St. Peter’s, he was regularly elected to the same, on the 30th day of November, 1772, and was elected rector of said churches on the 15th day of April, 1779. He was graduated D. D. in the University of Pennsylvania, on the 4th day of July, 1782; being the first person named for that degree in the said institution. He was elected bishop of the Church in Pennsylvania, September 14, 1786; and was consecrated to the episcopacy on the 4th day of February, 1787, by Dr. John Moore, Archbishop of Canterbury, assisted by Dr. William Markham, Archbishop of York, Dr. Charles Moss, Bishop of Bath and Wells, and Dr. John Hincheliff, Bishop of Peterborough. In the war of Independence, he was Chaplain of Congress, and again, by the choice of the Senate, under the Federal Constitution, in the presidency of Washington, so long as Philadelphia was the seat of government.

“Bishop White was rector of Christ Church and St. Peter’s about fifty-seven years and three months; and of St. James’ from the time of its organization, about twenty-seven years. He was bishop of this diocese about forty-nine years and five months. And, on the decease of Bishop Seabury, February 25th, 1796, becoming the senior bishop of our Church, he continued such about forty years and five month. His whole term in the ministry was about sixty-five years and seven months.

“After no protracted illness, by the mere decay of age, he expired on Sunday, the 17th of July, 1836, in the 89th year of his age; his mind unclouded, tranquil, and serene, in meek reliance upon his Saviour. And on the 20th, his body was interred in the family vault, in Christ Church Yard, amidst the testimonials of respect and affection of multitudes of mourning citizens.”—Prot. Episcopalian, vol. vii., 316-318.

NOTE.—This stone is in the aisle, in front of the chancel at its junction with the centre aisle.

Dr. Jenney came to this country as a missionary from the Society for Propagating the Gospel in Foreign Parts, in the year 1722, and was first settled in the County of Westchester, New York; and afterwards at Hempstead, Long Island. Having served the Society faithfully for twenty years, he was invited to Christ Church and entered upon his duties as Rector in November, 1742, by a license from the Bishop of London. He died at the advanced age of seventy-five years in January, 1762, having been fifty-two years in the ministry, and more than nineteen years rector of Christ Church.—Dr. DORR's History of Christ Church.

 XLIV.

(The inscription on this stone is entirely obliterated.)

NOTE.—The stone is located between the grave of Rev'd Robert Jenney and that of Rev'd Richard Peters, in the aisle in front of the chancel.

 XLV.

In memory of
The Reverend RICHARD PETERS D. D.
 Rector of Christ Church & S^t Peters
 who departed this life
 July 10th 1776
 Aged 72 years.

NOTE.—This stone is on the south side of the Centre Aisle, 25 feet from the east wall under the window.

The Rev'd Mr. Peters came out to this country from England in 1735, and assisted the Rev'd Mr. Cummings for a few months after his arrival. He continued to reside in Philadelphia until Dr. Jenney's death, when he was unanimously elected to the rectorship of Christ Church and St. Peters. He continued rector of the united churches until September, 1775, when he resigned in consequence of age and infirmities. He was a gentleman of fortune and a most liberal benefactor of the Church.—DR. DORR'S History of Christ Church.

 XLVI.

In memory of
THOMAS VENABLE Esq
 who departed this life
 January 26th 1731.
 And of REBECCA his Wife
 who departed this life
 February 10th 1784
 Aged 78 years.

NOTE—This stone is on the south side of the Centre Aisle, 31 feet from the east wall.

XLVII.

Under this stone lies
ANN HOCKLEY,
 who will ever be remembered with true esteem
 by all who knew her, for good sense,
 sprightly conversation, strict virtue, sincere friendship,
 and unaffected piety.
 Her sickness was one continued exercise of devotion,
 being a painful consumptive disorder,
 which removed her from hence
 y^e 28th day of June 1745 at the age of 24 years,
 singing in most devout strains
 and making melody unto the Lord in her very last moments.

NOTE.—This stone is on the north side of the Centre Aisle, 40 feet from the east wall.

XLVIII.

Under this stone
 lies interred the Body of JOHN KNIGHT Esq^r
 of the Island of Jamaica
 who died in this city 23rd July 1733
 in the 36th year of his age.
 He was the only living son of James Knight Esq^r and Grandson of Doctor Knight both of said Island.

NOTE.—This stone is on the north side of the Centre Aisle, 48 feet from the east wall.

XLIX.

Sacred
to the Memory of the Honorable RICHARD WARSON Esq^r
one of His Majesty's Council of the Island of Barbados.

Nature had been bountiful to him his Education was liberal—his principles in regard to Church & State Orthodox and Constitutional. In the relations of Husband and Father, he was kind, tender and truly affectionate.

His mournful widow in respectful testimony of his Conjugal Paternal and other Excellencies dedicates this stone.

Born in Barbados A. D. 1701
Died in Philadelphia A. D. 1766
Aged 65.

Also the remains of
Mrs. MARY WEEKS
Eldest daughter of the aforesaid
Richard Warsom Esq of Barbados.
who died January 21st 1772
Aged 31 years.

ROBERT MEADE son of George & Henrietta Constantia Meade
and Grandson of Richard Warson was interred here on the 5th May 1796.

NOTE.—This stone is on the south side of the Centre Aisle, 55 feet from the east wall.

A mural tablet, No. 55, on the north wall of the Church, is also erected to the memory of Robert Meade.

I.

Here lieth the Body of Mrs. MARY ANDREWS
 who departed this life
 March 29th 1761
 Anno Ætat 78.

NOTE.—This stone is on the south side of the Centre Aisle, 64 feet from the east wall.

A mural tablet, No. 54, on the south wall of the Church, is also erected to her memory.

Mrs. Mary Andrews, at her death, left several bequests to Christ Church, one of which was an annual sum of £10, Pennsylvania currency (now a ground rent of $26 67 per annum), to be paid during the Christmas Holidays, to such poor families of Philadelphia as shall not be found on the poor roll. This amount is still received and disbursed at that festive season, adding to the Christmas cheer of many poor families, thus forming a continued memorial of her charity for over a century.

LI.

Here lieth the Body of
JOHN ROBERTS
 Merchant in Philadelphia
 who departed this life
 January 13th 1730.
 Aged 44 years.

NOTE.—This stone is on the north side of the Centre Aisle, 72 feet from the east wall.

LII.

Here lies the Body of ROBERT LORAËY
 who departed this life
 November 27th Anno Domini 1734
 Aged 42 years.

NOTE.—This stone is in the South Aisle, 34 feet from the inner east wall enclosing the room south of the chancel.

 LIII.

NOTE.—There is no inscription remaining on this stone. The Records of the Church locate it as follows:—

“A large flat stone, every letter entirely worn off, placed four feet from the wall of the southeast stairway in the passage of entrance from southeast door.”

These landmarks have now passed away, and the stone lies at the junction of the South Aisle and the Aisle running north and south in front of the chancel.

Just, Generous and Humane.
He knew but vice the better to avoid her While every virtue claimed alliance to him.

Now well earned peace is his, and bliss sincere Ours be the lenient, not displeasing tear
'Tis the great birthright of mankind to die,
Life is the bud of being, the dim dawn,
The twilight of our day, the vestibule;
Life's theatre as yet is shut, and death,
Strong death alone can heave the massy bar,
This gross impediment of clay remove,
And make us embryos of existence free.

LVI.

(A mural tablet on the north wall of the Church.)

1790.

NOTE.—Next to the tomb of Washington this grave has probably more general interest than any in the country. The great Benjamin Franklin rests here, side by side with the partner of his life. The plain stone that covers their resting-place reflects his character better than any epitaph, and the simple inscription affords abundant scope for meditation. The locality of the tomb is in a retired part of the grounds, and the grave until recently could only be visited with difficulty; but in the year 1855 a portion of the wall next to it was taken down and an iron railing substituted, so that a view of the grave can now readily be obtained without entering the grounds.

The plain appearance of the tomb must strike every one as unworthy of the memory of Franklin, over whose remains one would naturally look for an imposing monument commemorative of his worth; but the stone as seen here is such as was contemplated by him before his death, and particularly ordered in his will.

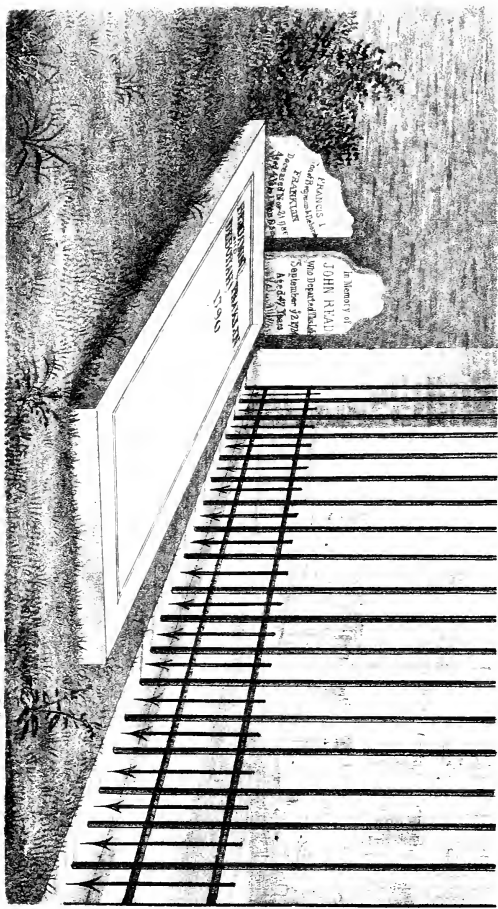

The following is an extract from the codicil to his will, dated 23d June, 1789, the year before his death:—

"I wish to be buried by the side of my wife, if it may be, and that a marble stone to be made by Chambers, six feet long, four feet wide, plain, with only a small moulding round the upper edge, and this inscription,

BENJAMIN	}	FRANKLIN.

A. D. MDCCXLVII.

Doct^r JOHN KEARSLEY
Died January 11th 1772
Aged 88 years.

NOTE.—Dr. John Kearsley, whose tomb is noted above, was one of the most active and efficient laymen of the early Church in this city. He came to Philadelphia, from England, in the year 1711, and his skill as a physician, with his affable manners, soon gained him prominence in the community. He was for a number of years an eminent member of the House of Assembly of this State. In 1719 he was elected one of the Vestry of Christ Church, and continued either as Vestryman or Warden to the time of his death in 1772. His taste for architecture is evinced in the erection of the present Christ Church and Independence Hall, which were built under his supervision. On his decease he bequeathed most of his property to the Corporation of the United Churches of Christ Church and St. Peters, for the purpose of erecting a building for the reception of poor or distressed women of the communion of the Church of England; the building to be called Christ Church Hospital. The first building so occupied was a dwelling-house in Arch Street above Third Street, devised by him for the purpose, and this was continued until the bequest could be more fully carried out, when a building was erected in Cherry Street above Third Street, which enabled the Vestries to accommodate forty inmates. In 1856 a tract of land of 126 acres was purchased on Belmont Avenue, within the city limits, on which site has been erected a commodious fire-proof edifice to be the permanent Christ Church Hospital, furnishing ample accommodations for over 100 inmates. A noble monument to the memory of this good man. The building is of stone throughout, and cost over $135,000. It has a front of 237 feet, with a wing 100 feet in depth. The interior is so arranged that each of the old ladies can have a separate room, which is comfortably furnished at the expense of the institution; and all the surroundings are such as to make the last years of their lives comfortable and happy. The annexed lithograph furnishes an exterior view of the present building.

LXIV.

To the memory
of

SAMUEL POWELL Esq^r

Late Speaker of the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Removed from this earthly scene he still lives in the regrets of his friends and in the gratitude of his countrymen,
for he had employed the best Talents of Nature,
highly improved by Education & Reflection,
only to make himself privately and publickly useful.

He discharged all the relative duties of private life
with propriety and the Important Duties of Magistrate of Legislator, and of Citizen, with Integrity and ability.

He was the enemy of all exorbitant Powers
and a sincere friend to the Liberties of his Country.
To all this was added a Taste for Science, for the Fine Arts and for all the Improvements of Civil Life.

Alas! Reader

Who can detain nothing however valued
from unrelenting Death,
see here a proof and be Reminded by this Tomb
that every worldly comfort fleets away, excepting only what arises from an Imitation

of the Virtues of our Friends and from the Contemplation of their happiness in a better life,

To which

God was pleased to call this enlightened
virtuous modest man on Sunday
the 29th day of December 1793

In memory of
THOMAS WILLING Esquire
 Born 19th Dec^r 1731 O. S. Died 19th Jan^y 1821
 Aged 89 years & 20 days.

This excellent man
 in all the relations of private life
 and
 in various situations of high public trust deserved and acquired
 the devoted affection of his family and friends
 and
 the universal respect of his fellow citizens.

From 1754 to 1807

He successively held the offices of Secretary to the Congress of Delegates at Albany,
 Mayor of the City of Philadelphia,
 Her representative in the General Assembly,
 President of the Provincial Congress,
 Delegate to the Congress of the Confederation,
 President of the first chartered Bank in America,
 and President of the first Chartered Bank of the United States.

With these public duties he united the business of
 An active enterprising and successful Merchant in which pursuit for sixty years
 his life was rich in examples of the influence of probity, fidelity and perseverance
 upon the stability of commercial establishments and upon that which was

His distinguished reward upon earth,
 Public consideration and esteem.

His profound adoration of the Great Supreme and his deep sense of his dependence on His mercy
 in life and in death
 gave him

at the close of his protracted years
 The humble hope
 of a superior reward in Heaven.

Let sorrow for Mary's early doom
 No more in silence sigh ;
 There is a hope beyond the tomb ;
 Bid every tear to dry.

Weep not, my friends, as you pass by ;
 As you are now, so once was I.
 Although my body's turned to dust,
 I hope to rise among the just.
 My dear friends, refrain from tears ;
 Here I must lie till Christ appears.

JACOB MORGAN Esquire
 who departed this life
 September 18th 1802
 in the 61st year of his age.

By service trained to every martial deed,
 In that dread contest which our country freed,
 Morgan stood forth the champion of the plan
 That man alone should legislate for man.
 When would-be tyrants lorded o'er the soil,
 And half-fledg'd Traitors mock'd our former toil.
 Morgan again appeared, by freedom fired,
 To fix by firmness what our Arms acquired :
 Firm in the council, ardent in the field ;
 Too bold to temporize, too brave to yield ;
 By all who knew him loved, by all revered ;
 By all lamented, as to all endeared ;
 Peace to his shade ; let no unhallowed tread
 Disturb the sacred slumbers of the dead.

OUR MOTHER

Departed this life
January 22nd A. D. 1860
with Christian Resignation

PHEBE BANKS

in the 70th year of her age.

This Tablet is erected to the memory of the fond and faithful partner
of our dear departed father.

“Our Mother”—Her irreparable loss soon loosed the silver chord of Existence—for it may be truly said “in life they were united and in death
they were not separated.”

The tears that bedew one grave shall flow as freely on the other—
We part to meet again in the blissful hope of another world, where tears
shall be wiped from every eye.
Peace to our Mother's ashes.

CVI.

OUR FATHER

Departed this life
January 19th 1860—A. D.
In the hopes of a blissful immortality
CHARLES BANKS
in the 72nd year of his age.

This present memorial is erected by his bereaved children
as a sincere tribute of their affectionate regard for one of the kindest fondest and most indulgent of parents whose staid integrity, geniality
and truly amiable disposition has fondly endeared him
to them and by whom he will ever be held in abiding regret.

Farewell, vain world, I have seen enough of thee ;
I value not what thou canst say of me ;
Thy smiles I care not, nor thy frowns I fear ;
Let me alone, my head lies quiet here.
What faults thou 'st seen in me observe to shun ;
Go look at home, there 's something to be done.

XI.

Sacred
to the memory of
JOHN SPURRIER
A native of Great Britian
Author of The Practical Farmer
A man of universal knowledge deep penetration sound judgment possessed of the social virtues in an eminent degree
For as Husband, Father, Friend and Citizen
none excelled him
His heart and hand were ever open to distress
Laying up treasure in Heaven
Whence he has gone
to reap the reward of a well spent life.
He died September 29th
1798
Aged 52 Years.

How good he was ; how generous, and how kind—
For his good nature with good taste was joined—
Careful to please, but fearful to offend ;
A kind, good husband, and a faithful friend.

Hushed is the sleep of death ; in peace she lies ;
No woes can fill her breast ; no tear her eyes ;
The hand of death has brought a sweet relief
From early anguish and from early grief ;
Her soul has fled to that celestial shore
Where grief and anguish can disturb no more.

I.

A tribute of affection
 in Memory of
MARIA RIGBY
 daughter of
 William and Catharine Rigby
 Aged 29 years.
 who on the 25th day of January 1816
 in the possession of a firm faith in Christ as her Redeemer
 and a hope full of glory and immortality triumphed over death
 and sweetly fell asleep in Jesus.

Cease, mourner, cease the sympathetic tear;
 The spirit is fled, 'tis but the dust rests here
 In peaceful hope, till Christ shall bid it rise
 Glorious to meet him from the opening skies;
 Then shall her raptured soul transported see
 This mortal put on immortality,
 And death be swallowed up in victory.

To the memory of
HENRY RIGBY
 Son of William & Catharine
 Born 22nd August 1779
 Died 8th June 1823.

NOTE.—Henry Rigby at his decease bequeathed to Christ Church several small houses in the city, the net income of which was to be appropriated to the benefit of the poor communicants of Christ Church.

The income of this property is now about $800 per annum, and this amount is expended each year according to the provisions of Mr. Rigby's will, rendering most welcome assistance to the poor of the Church, and keeping his memory fresh in many a thankful heart. Such a memorial is more lasting than the monument erected over his remains.

How soon our fondest hopes are fled,
And all our earthly joys are gone;
Our dear and only daughter's dead,
And childless we are left to mourn.
We fondly loved this lifeless clay;
Sweet flower, we saw it fade and die;
We heard, as winged the soul its way,
The gentle groan, the expiring sigh.
She's gone, and oh! forever gone;
Now burst our hearts, with anguish riven,
She'll never more to us return:
Oh! may we follow her to heaven.

I heard a voice from Heaven saying unto me Write from henceforth blessed are the dead who die in the Lord : even so saith the Spirit,
 for they rest from their labors.—REV. xiv. 13.

No more shall grief disturb thy peaceful breast,
 Nor life's misfortune break thy Heavenly rest ;
 From those blessed realms where pain can never come,
 Lamented Youth, shall be thy future home ;
 Where God will hush each deep distressful sigh,
 And wipe the tears from every weeping eye.

Aged 38 years & 118 days.

A friend to all mankind who dwell with woe,
Caress'd above, lamented here below,
His brothers mourn him and his friends deplore,
His worth assails them at their board no more.
The poor, the widow's and the orphan's tear
Prove he had virtues which they all revere:
Grieve they the loss of a departed friend,
And prayers to Heaven for his peace they send.

 XL.

Sacred
to the memory of
Miss MARY ANN FISS
eldest daughter of Samuel & Eleanor Fiss,
who departed this life
August 28th 1826
in the 22nd year of her age.

Accept, blest shade, the tribute of this tear,
While to my soul thy memory shall be dear;
In all my griefs thy image shall have part,
And hold a place superior in my heart.

 XLI.

Sacred
to the memory of
JOHN SIMPSON
formerly of Charleston
South Carolina
born July 20th 1776
departed this life April 8th 1831
Aged 54 years 8 months & 19 days.

A loving husband, a tender father,
and a sincere friend,
His pure spirit has winged its flight
to realms of everlasting bliss,
where the wicked cease from troubling,
and the weary are at rest.

XLII.

In Memory of Mrs MARY
Consort of John Simpson
and only child of Thomas & Sarah Godfrey
who departed this life
on the 8th of March 1824
aged 33 years & 6 months
Formerly of Charleston South Carolina.

This tribute of respect is erected in Memory of a beloved mother by her bereaved Children.

She is made a happy saint above
Who was once a mourner here,
And sweetly tastes unmingled love
And joy without a tear.
Beneath this clod her dust remains
Free from all her anxious pains;
Christ was her choice. She's gone on high
To reign with him eternally.
Tender mother, thy days are ended,
All thy afflicted days below;
Go, by Angel guards attended,
To the arms of Jesus go.
May she rest in peace.

XLIII.

In Memory of
Mrs HARRIET B. DUNCAN
Consort of Joseph M. Duncan and daughter of John & Hannah Bioren.
She departed this life
on the 14th day of January 1822
Aged 18 years & 28 days.

Could worth unsully'd, loveliness & grace
Make all that mortal, all that Heaven could prize;
Could every virtue in one heart embrace,
And form an offering worthy of the skies—

Here is the Casket, tho' the gem has fled,
That form still beauteous in the arms of death;
Here let affection pause, and lightly tread,
My all of bliss. my Harriet lies beneath.

Dear to a heart, where naught was left so dear,
Tho' time can ne'er thy sainted form restore,
Soon shall I hail thee in a brighter sphere,
And mourned and mourner meet to part no more.

L.

Here Layeth the mortal part
of
Col. BENJAMIN FLOWER
Late of the American Army
Being generous, sociable, humble,
His public walk in Life
He filled with Dignity,
His private
With a distinguished Grace.
Punctual and unwearied in Business
Sprightly and successful
Firm in his Attachments
Founded still on Principle
Delicate & strict in Ho——
He was
The Loyal and the Lo——
of that Land
Which gave him Birth.
During a tedious illness
Which he bore with equanimity
Superior
The Genius of Religion
Held over him
Her Banners
Endued him with energy Divine
And consolation ineffable
Pointing to the Glories of a future world
while Hope stood smiling
And looking on.
Upon the 28th day of April 1781
In the 33rd year of his age
He departed.

II.

To Miss ANN FLOWER
only daughter of the late Col. Benjamin Flower
This Marble is Sacred.
Tho' dying in Youth
Her 24th year not being completed
She had attained in Wisdom
And various accomplishments
The Respectability of Age.
Within the pensive Bosoms
of her many Friends
She left impressed
Deep sorrow for her Departure
Allayed however
By the pleasing consideration
of her fitness for a happier State.
On the 12th of Dec^r 1793
she went before them.

That children shed upon their parent's bier;
Be calm, mourning friends, whose sorrow prove
How mortals feel the loss of those they love.
Thus mild religion speaks to souls in grief,
And resignation draws from heaven relief;
Hope whispers comfort to the anguished breast,
There dwell eternal joy, and peace, and rest.

 in the 29th year of her age.

She for 5 years lived the daughter of affliction
 which she bore with amazing patience & Christian fortitude.

She humbled herself before her Creator
 And in her heart adored the God of nature
 She was a fond indulgent mother, a kind mistress
 A faithful friend and the best of wives.

The afflictions she bore in life
 Were compensated to her in death
 It may be truly said she fell asleep in the Lord
 For she expired without a visible pang.

Sacred
to the memory of
Miss ELEANOR HOCKLEY
who departed this life
February 15th 1816.

Why, then, ye mourning friends, her loss deplore?
By faith behold her on the heavenly shore.
Your loss, tho' great, is her eternal gain,
Now free from sin, and grief, and pain.
Oh! if like her, your soul be truly wise,
And long to trace her to the blissful skies,
Again in Christ united ye shall meet,
And there before his throne each other greet.

XXI.

Sacred to the memory of
Mr THOMAS HOCKLEY
 of this city, Merchant,
 who departed this life Aug^t y^e 14th 1781
 Aged 48 years.

The ashes of a worthy man beneath this tomb do rest,
 Who filled beloved, life's little span, then soared to meet the blest.

The kindest husband and warmest friend and parent kind
 did join,
 Whose social virtues mild did blend, and Hockley once were mine.

A real Christian in heart, he calmly met his fate;
 Resigned he faced that dreadful dart which ends our mortal state.

His weeping spouse this marble rears, but words her grief
 can't paint;
 The wife, the woman melts in tears, and mourns him though a saint.

Also of
ELEANOR HOCKLEY
 his wife
 who departed this life
 August 14th 1816
 in the 77th year of her age.

Crushed as a moth beneath thy hand,
 We moulder to the dust;
 Our feeble powers can ne'er withstand,
 And all our beauty's lost.

LXXX.

Sacred to the memory of
ELIZABETH LYDIA CROZIER
 and of her three stillborn infants,
 wife of M^r Matthew Crozier
 and daughter of Burton Wallace who departed this life on the 9th of November Anno 1799 in the 28th year
 of her age after a painful illness which she bore with patience and resignation.

As a daughter, sister and wife she was dutiful and affectionate, highly esteemed by her friends who much lament her loss.

Her disconsolate parent with the consent of her husband
 has erected this tomb to perpetuate her memory.

Her much lamented mother departed this life
 during the Revolutionary war
 and was interred beneath a tomb in the burial ground
 of the church in Kingsessing, Philadelphia County.

She saw disease prey on her vital breath:
 She bore with resignation every pain;
 She saw with fortitude her coming death,
 And changed a sinful world for heavenly gain.

Remembrance oft shall her restore,
 For her the tear be duly shed;
 Beloved till life can charm no more,
 And mourned till pity's self be dead.

But hark! I hear her dear Redeemer say,
 The dead who sweetly die in Christ are blest;
 She's gone where blooms a bright eternal day;
 She has gone to inherit everlasting rest.

Beneath this stone repose
the last mortal remains of

ELLEN

Daughter of John D. & Mary Coxe and dearly beloved wife of John G. Watmough
of Philadelphia.

It pleased the Almighty Ruler of events to call her suddenly hence from the faithful performance of every Conjugal, maternal and Social duty. With humble reliance upon the mercy of her Saviour she calmly submitted to the will of God,
And piously restored to him the Gifts she had made her chief duty never to abuse.

Born November 1st 1798

She died February 12th 1831

Aged 32 years 3 months and 12 days.

“I will both lay me down in peace and sleep,
For thou, Lord, only makest me dwell in safety.”

Beside her
moulder the remains of her infant daughter

ANNA

who died July 15th 1826 aged 5 months.

MARY ELLEN WATMOUGH

Born March 11th 1824. Died March 31st 1845.

Humble, pious, gentle, dutiful in life, she fell asleep in the Lord Jesus, and now sweetly reposes in death
with the remains of her beloved Mother.

But one thing is needful, and Mary has chosen that good part,
which shall not be taken away from her.

LXVI.

Sacred
to the memory of
Mrs SUSAN M. GAPPER
a native of England, but for many years a resident of Philadelphia.
She died July 31st 1838
aged Eighty-two years.

Remarkable for vigour of intellect
and a highly cultivated mind;
her religious faith was founded upon conviction.

A full believer in the truths of the Gospel,
she derived from them support under severe trials here
and rested upon them all her hopes hereafter.

The gratitude of one who during a long series of years
received from her many benefits,
has caused this Monument to be erected to her memory.

Corrupt in the Bud
Sever'd from future ill,
Great is the loss,
It was the Almighty's will.
Shall I repine, to me
What God has given,
Now I resign my Child
With joy to Heaven.

Farewell, vain world, I have seen enough of thee;
 I value not what you can say of me;
 For here we are safely lodged
 From pain and persecution free,
 That in this wretched life we see,
 Mortals, we wish not to assume a second birth,
 To live and move with you on earth:
 Ah! no, but let our dusty reliets rest
 Until we shall rise among the blest.

She sleeps in death
Beneath the silent tomb,
Like some fair flower
Cut down in early bloom.
Too pure for earth, she Sought that peaceful shore
Where sorrows cease and Sufferings are no more;
Where joys eternal to
The good are given,
And saints and angels
Dwell with her in Heaven.

XV.

to the memory of
RESOLVED GARDNER
who was born at Nantucket
3rd June 1774
and died 23rd Sep^t 1802
of a malignant fever,
unto whom these lines are humbly inscribed.

May these honors ever grace thy head
Whilst blest peace surrounds thee;
May thou not vice or tyrant dread,
As neither could confound thee.

Untill that tyrant death, who delights to smite what's smitten most, proclaim the pride of power thus foil'd thee in the grave.

Where may thou remain from sorrow free,
Bereft of all thy care,
Quite forgetful of the world and me,
And all that was most dear.

The vernal hope
of Lengthen'd life is cropt;
The opening blossom
In the grave is dropt.
Yet weep not, parents,
O'er this mouldering clay,
But rest your comfort
On the Judgment day.

Adieu, my dearest love, adieu;
Fled are the calm delights I shared with you:
The dream of tender care and bliss is fled,
And every charm of life with you is dead.

LIX.

In

memory of

PETER CLARK

son of

John & Catharine Clark

who departed this life

April 17th 1812 A. 1797

aged 19 years & 9 months.

Where is thy sting, O death! the pain is fled,
 Tho' thy sharp arrows beat around his head;
 He welcom'd death, and like a seraph smiled,
 Reposed in peace, of cares and ills beguiled.

LX.

Sacred

to the memory of

CATHARINE L. 1758

Relict of John Clark

who departed this life

January 25th 1849

Aged 90 years 3 months & 23 days.

LXI.

Sacred

To the Memory of

JOHN CLARK, Merchant, 5175 R

of this City

who on the morning of the 25th day of August

A. D. 1803

Whilst laudably engaged in saving his Fellow Citizens property from the Flames, was suddenly killed by the falling of the wall of the building on Fire.

Reader,

Survey this Grave with solemn thoughts,
and reflect on the untimely death
of thy fellow mortal,
who was thus called by his Maker
from time to eternity
in the 51st year of his Age,
leaving a Widow and seven Children,
to whom he was affectionate, kind, and indulgent.

As a man of Business, his conduct was influenced by the strictest integrity ;
his greatest ambition was to be an honest man and a Christian.

LXII.

In
